

WARWICK LICENSES

Motion to Revoke That of Frank Carmel in Bloodfield.

OLD WHISKEY AND WATER CASE

Application of Walter Moss for License Near City Limits—Negro. Escaped Fugitive From This City. Gets Two Years in Penitentiary.

At Warwick court house today the old fight against saloons will be renewed when the application of Walter Moss for license for Twentieth street and Madison avenue will be made and the motion to revoke the license of the place conducted by Frank Carmel will be heard.

The motion to revoke the license of Carmel will be heard on the motion of Commonwealth Attorney Wilcox and it is presumed that it grows out of the recent trials of a case of alleged Sunday selling at this place. On the occasion of the first trial the warrant charged R. Copland, while the license for the place is in the name of Carmel, although the saloon adjoins Copland's place and the mistake was made from the fact that the two places are generally known as one.

When this case was heard the evidence, consisting of a bottle of whiskey that had been purchased, mysteriously changed into water. Copland, however, was convicted but later the case was reopened and tried in the name of Carmel. At this trial Mr. Wilcox appeared for the commonwealth, but it was testified that the whiskey had been sold by the young son of Copland and no conviction was found. The application of Moss for a license at Twentieth and Madison avenue will be opposed by the residents of that district who object to a saloon being located there.

In the Warwick Circuit Court yesterday the case of Chris Johnson, alias Chris Braxton, charged with the larceny of a boat, was tried and he was given two years in the penitentiary. Johnson is a well known negro in this city and has served considerable time here.

At the time of his arrest on the above charge, he was wanted here to serve out an unexpired term in jail and also to answer the charge of breaking jail, he having escaped from the chain gang several weeks ago.

IS NOT ELIGIBLE.

Rev. R. B. Sanford Cannot Serve on School Board.

Rev. R. B. Sanford, who was elected a member of the school board at the joint meeting of the common council and board of aldermen, Tuesday night, to succeed Mr. John Wilkinson, cannot serve on the board as he is not a citizen of this city. He has been in Newport News since last April, but under the law he must be a resident of the State for two years and of the city for one year before he can hold office as a school trustee. It is expected that another meeting of the board of aldermen and common council will be held in the near future to elect a school trustee to succeed Mr. Wilkinson.

WATER WAS TOO COLD.

Thomas Kennedy, of Belfast, Decided Not to Commit Suicide.

Thomas Kennedy, who says he is from Belfast, Ireland, took a notion to commit suicide by leaping overboard into James River just beyond the shipyard yesterday shortly after noon, but when he landed in the water he changed his mind and swam ashore. When seen afterwards, Kennedy stated that the water was too cold for him to carry out his rash deed.

After swimming ashore the man wandered up Huntington avenue in search of his boarding house and it was several hours before he could find it. Kennedy did not have on any shoes or coat and the wintry wind of yesterday chilled him to the bone, but he withstood it bravely and joked about his attempted suicide to several people he met on the street.

AFTER HARD BATTLE Pain in Your Chest?

Phoebus Football Team Defeated East End Eleven.

ON THE CASINO GRIDIRON

Brilliant Run of Eighty Yards for Touchdown by Bridgeman Was Only Score of Game—Work of Both Teams Marred by Repeated Fumbles

The football team of the Phoebus Athletic Club defeated the East End eleven on the Casino gridiron yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 0 in a game replete with fumbles. The Phoebus team outplayed the East Enders almost at every stage of the game and the locals showed a sad need of practice and of proper coaching. The backs were woefully slow in getting started with the ball and the Phoebus players were upon them several times before they had gone a yard.

The star play of the game was made just one minute after the kick-off in the opening of the first half, when Bridgeman circled left end for a brilliant run of eighty yards and a touchdown. Several of the East End players attempted to get the runner, but he was given excellent interference and succeeded in eluding all opponents between himself and the goal. Gadol kicked a goal from the touchdown, making the score 6 to 0 in favor of Phoebus, and thus it remained throughout the remainder of the game.

When the ball had been kicked off by the East Enders after the first touchdown, the Phoebus eleven carried it up ten yards and then Bridgeman made another long run of forty yards around left end, carrying the leather to East End's forty-yard line.

By steady line plunging and end runs the Phoebus boys advanced the ball to the ten-yard line, where the East Enders took a brace and held for downs. An exchange of fumbles by each team gave East End the ball on its twenty-yard line. Johnson, Ware and Smith then advanced the leather to Phoebus' forty-yard line, where Gennis got the ball on a fumble and carried it to the ten-yard line and the half ended.

Second Half.

Phoebus kicked to East End at the opening of the second half and the locals were held for downs on their fifteen-yard line. The Phoebus boys were in turn held for downs and the ball went over. After advancing ten yards the locals lost the leather on downs and Gadol attempted a drop kick at goal but failed and Gennis got the pigskin.

During the remainder of the second half the leather remained between East End's twenty-yard and goal lines, and was first in possession of the locals and then in the possession of the Phoebus team. The half ended with the ball in East End's possession on its fifteen-yard line.

A small but enthusiastic crowd of rooters saw the game and they did some loud "rooting" in the second half when the East Enders braced and kept the Phoebus boys from scoring several times.

The average person knows very little of the actual value of jewelry.

When he takes his money and goes into a jewelry store to purchase, he is in the hands of the dealer.

Prospective purchasers coming to this store may be assured of two things, we have absolute knowledge of the articles we sell, and we give the very best value for the money expended.

We hope every person on the peninsula will come in between now and Christmas to see the beautiful collection of goods we have gotten together for the Holidays.
